

Events

CRI Policy Innovation Forum: Driving Change to Improve Long-Term Outcomes

PUBLISHED

06/19/2018

SERVICES

On Tuesday, June 19, 2018 Principal David Kaleda will be moderating a panel at the The Georgetown University Center for Retirement Initiatives' (CRI) 2018 Policy Innovation Forum titled "Does the Addition of Alternative Assets Improve the Performance of Target Date Funds?" The forum will host policy leaders and industry experts at Georgetown University Law School and present innovative new approaches to improving long-term outcomes in plan design and performance.

To learn more about the program please click here.