Michael Kreps was quoted in the Pensions and Investments article, "DOL Preps State Retirement Program Rules for Private-Sector Employees," by Hazel Bradford on September 3, 2015. The article discussed the proposed rules submitted to DOL for states to set up auto-enrollment IRA savings programs for private-sector employees. The reforms happening at the state level have largely flown under the radar for policymakers in D.C. until recently. But now, it is clear that the White House and the department are making it a priority to help the states, and they are trying to act on an expedited schedule, said Kreps.
