Principal Rachel Levy will be presenting at The Aspen Institute's Roundtable on Employer-Provided Educational Assistance. The program will take place on Wednesday, January 22, 2020 in Washington, DC.

The program is designed to explore employer-provided training and educational assistance subsidized, in part, through Internal Revenue Code provisions, most notably Section 127. The roundtable discussion will serve to help advance attendees' understanding of Section 127 and potential related activities.
