

Publications

Trusted Advisers: Navigating a plan's relationship with its investment consultant

ATTORNEYS & PROFESSIONALS

Ellen Goodwin

egoodwin@groom.com

202-861-6630

PUBLISHED

01/01/2012

SOURCE

Plan Sponsor Magazine

SERVICES

Perhaps the most important trusted adviser to an employee plan is its investment consultant. A retirement plan often will rely upon its investment consultant to help formulate investment policies, develop asset-allocation methodologies, recommend investment managers, and measure and evaluate investment performance. The Department of Labor (DoL) has long held that a plan's use of an investment consultant is evidence of procedural prudence.

Please see the attached article for further discussion.

Trusted Advisers: Navigating a plan's relationship with its investment consultantDownload