Brigen Winters was quoted in the MarketWatch article “Advocates Fear Trump Tax Plan May ‘Rothify’ 401(k) Plans” by Robert Schroeder on September 28, 2017. The article discussed the tax reform framework released by the “Big 6” on September 27 and the uncertainty surrounding the possible impact of tax reform on the retirement savings tax incentives. Although the tax plan mentions retaining tax benefits for retirement, the “Rothification” of 401(k) plans remains under consideration.
